Victor Hugo on Things That Matter

This book presents a selection of French texts from Hugo's many writings with annotation and notes in English that aid exploration of the extraordinary mind of this nineteenth-century French thinker. Topics range across private and public concerns, with love, grief, God, liberty, social justice, and war forming only a partial list. The book also features twenty-five of Hugo's watercolors and drawings.

You are welcome to bring a bag lunch. Dessert and drinks will be provided.
